

TAKE AWAY shelf

Description

By Juan Soriano Blanco for “The Kitchen Becames Open”
for Valcucine / Demode and Dotdotdot sutio

When the research process was made, it was observed the importance of the connection of the kitchen with the food, in many levels from emotional to pragmatical.

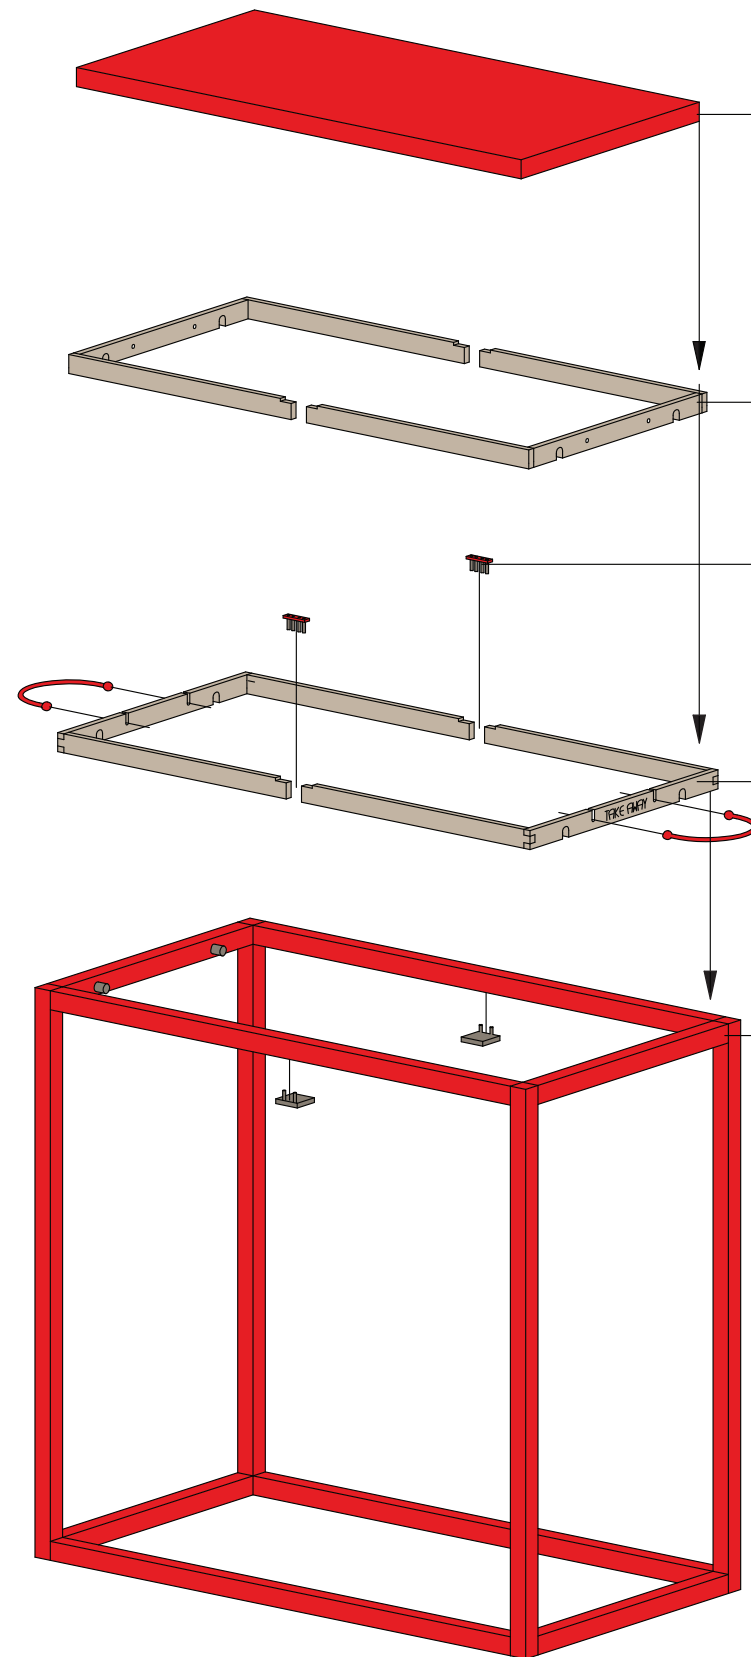

The result is a contemporary interpretation in the way that the food is stored, mixing an emotional and pragmatical connection embracing a sculptural solution. It is a shelve that becamas a container, just by changing the material. It is used elastic fabrics to generate an hamac effect to store the food and objects, changing the surface. Also closing the concept, eventually the shelve becamas a bag that you can “take away”.

To produce it, it was generated a wooden frame into the existing meccanica shelve. Its is a double frame that adapts to the support of the shelving system, occupying the same space as a wooden shelf. The wood and the textile is laser cutted, and assmebled easily with nails and double sided tape. To use and support the middle of the shelf, the were addapted two supports to the existing frame, for an easy deploy of the bag.

TAKE AWAY shelf

Assembly instructions

By Juan Soriano Blanco for “The Kitchen Becomes Open”
for Valcucine / Demode and Dotdotdot sutio

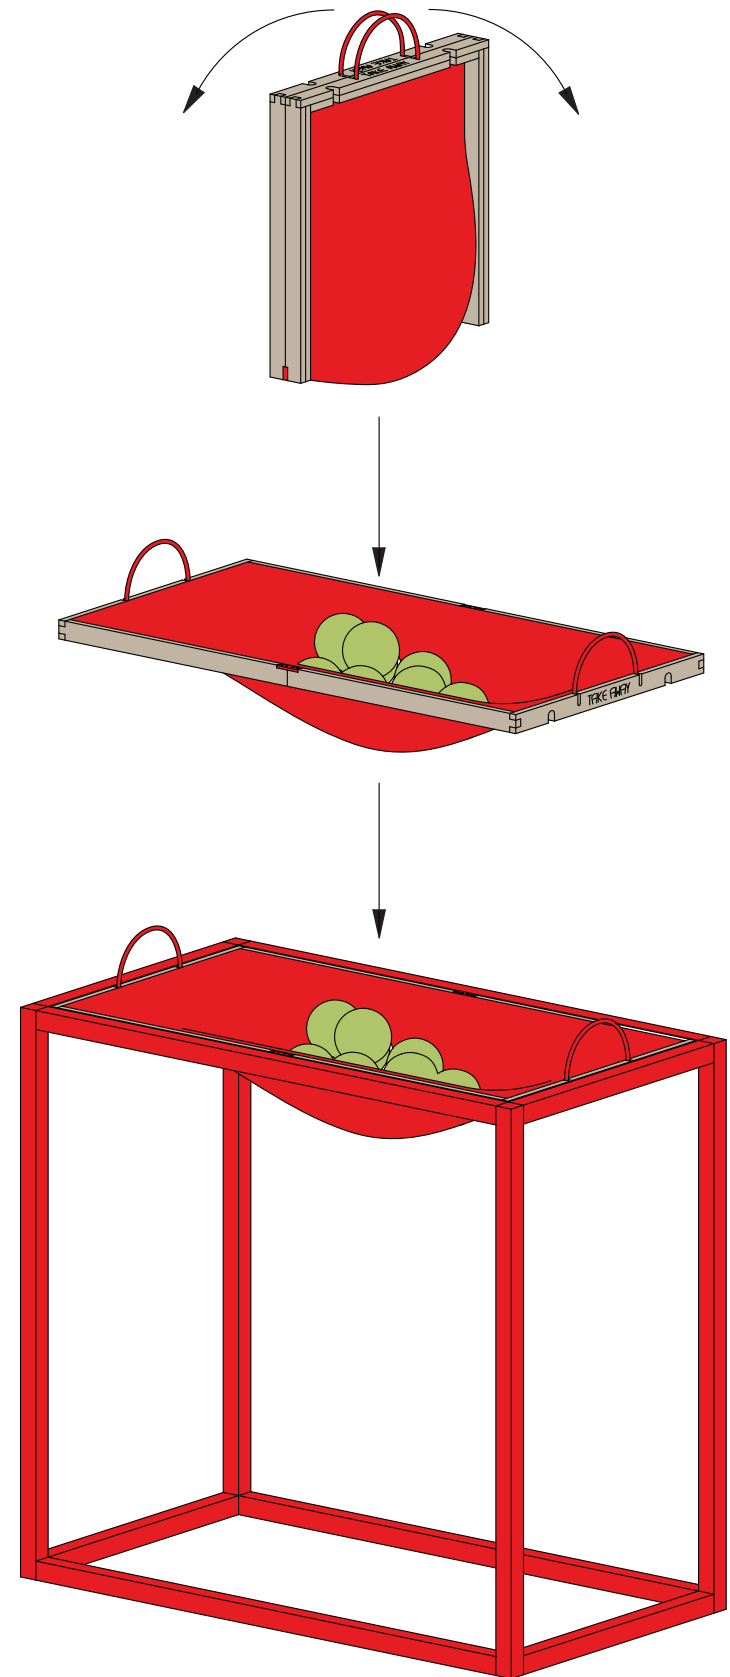

1) Textile (lycra):
Glued to the inner frame (2), with glue or double sided tape

2) Inner frame:
Assembled with white cola and nails, in two parts. Fixed to the outer frame (4) with nails

3) Hinges:
Made in felt. To get together the two parts of the outer frame (4). Fixed with two nails each

4) Outer frame:
Assembled with white cola and nails, to get together with the hinges (3). The handles are cord of 20 cm each, fixed with a knot to the outer frame

5) Meccanica structure:
Add two supports in the large beams to deploy the TAKE AWAY bag, fixed with two screws

TAKE AWAY shelf

Drawings (Laser cutted parts)

By Juan Soriano Blanco for “The Kitchen Becames Open”
for Valcucine / Demode and Dotdotdot sutio

1) Textile (lycra)

2) Inner frame

4) Outer frame

